She knows the voices in her mind
They tell her
To leave

She's tired smiling madly
Until silence becomes very silently
A noise in her mind

After all she's got nothing inside
No good to give
No meaning to live

The misting engulfed tonight
Every single star

After all he said could he simply say no?
After all he said he turned away from her to go
She said she wouldn't cry that was really just a lie

She knows the noises in her mind
Nothing's left, but, screaming silence

After all she feels madness inside
The feelings gone, she's upside down
The pictures behind her closed us
It's time you learned to fall

After all he said could he simply say no?
After all he said he turned away from her to go
She said she wouldn't cry that was really just a lie

After all he said could he simply say no?
After all he said he turned away from her to go
She said she wouldn't cry that was really just a lie

After all she's got nothing inside
No good to give
No meanin' to live

The misting engulfed tonight
Every single star

After all he said could he simply say no?
After all he said he turned away from her to go
She said she wouldn't cry that was really just a lie

After all he said could he simply say no?
After all he said he turned away from her to go
She said she wouldn't cry that was really just a lie

After all he said could he simply say no?
After all he said he turned away from her to go
She said she wouldn't cry that was really just a lie
