Why is the world so in pain?
Isn't there enough love to go around?
I'm clutching to the cross on my chains
They rattle as I drag them through today

I don't know if you can hear
I need someone near
Hold this body and say
Close the door and close my eyes

(Chorus)
Oh, when the lights are low
Tears from heaven will fall
On my heart, on my heart
I can feel them clean my soul
And take my sadness away
When the lights are low
I'm not alone, I'm not alone, no

Oh, only when the lights are low in my room
I can be away from it all
Oh, only when the lights are low in my room
I can be away from it all

I walk on the ground of an earthquake
There doesn't seem to be anywhere safe
I listen for the sound, like endless space
'Cause when I hear the cry my fears erase

Now I know that you can hear
I long to feel you near
I can hear when heaven cries
So dim the lights and close my eyes
My eyes (X7)

(Chorus, X2)
Oh, when the lights are low
Tears from heaven will fall
On my heart, on my heart
I can feel them clean my soul
And take my sadness away
When the lights are low

I'm not alone, I'm not alone, no

Oh, only when the lights are low in my room

I can be away from it all

Oh, only when the lights are low in my room

Tears from heaven will fall
