From every side the cold winds blow
You know why
And I know why
And we will see what will be
What the next year holds
Oh except returning leaflets go
Another minute forms

All my life I thought I knew the road ahead
Oh what a strange world (what a strange world)
It's a strange world of shadow and light
Oh but isn't it funny how the time goes by
When all of the while you're wondering how to say goodbye
Goodbye

Every day and nights will come
I'll be missing you
And I'm going to be brave
When it hits you

The way you wanted to be

Oh let it all come down on me
Every year, every week, every day
Every memory
Will keep my mind open
The way you wanted to be
The way you wanted to be
(I will miss you!)

Every day and nights will come
I'll be missing you
And I'm going to be brave
When it hits you

The way you wanted to be

Oh let it all come down on me
Every year, every week, every day
Every memory

Keep my mind open
The way you wanted to be
Oh let it all come down on me
(all my life I'll be waiting)
I'll be counting all the years, the days, the weeks
The memories

Every day of my life
I'll be missing you
