From every side the cold winds blow you know why and i know why and we will see what will be what the next year holds oh as every turning leaf lets go another minute folds

All my life i thought i knew the road ahead and oh what strange world it's a strange world of shadow light oh but isn't it funny how the time goes by when all of the while you're wondering how to say goodbye
goodbye

Every day and night you're gone i'll be missing you
but i'm gonna be brave
waving at you, waving at you
the way you want it to be oh let it all come down on me every year, every week, every day, every memory i'll keep my mind open

The way you want it to be
i will miss you...

all my life i thought i knew i'll be waving at you i'll be counting all the years, the days, the weeks, the memories

every day and night
always
