They call it the burnout factor, and only the good die young

Somebody's gonna take their life, just tryin' to have some fun

The paper's gonna say we're crazy, no matter what they say, yeah

You know I'm gonna rock all night, gonna rock all night and day

Whenever they quote you man, you'll be misunderstood

They're never gonna get it right, or tell it the way they should

Maybe we move too fast to put it all in a song
And if we keep pushin' ourselves we won't be around too long
If you wanna try it

Crash and burn, crash and burn
Crash and burn, crash and burn all night long

Some people like to take it easy and flow without a sound

Others like to play for keeps and spread themselves around

I don't wanna say it's right, but if that's where you wanna be

Life's too short to miss out on what you wanna see If you wanna try it

Crash and burn, crash and burn
Crash and burn, crash and burn all night long

Come on now, honey, don't tell me the way I ought to be

You know I don't need nobody talkin' back to me Hey, I'm gonna live my life the way I think I should You know I wouldn't change a thing, even if I could I tell it like it is Crash and burn, crash and burn
Crash and burn, crash and burn
Baby, crash and burn
I said crash and burn
I said crash and burn
