That would be all
The fiasco's complete
All that could go wrong
Has now gone wrong

Finding myself in a world
In which I, a walking defect
Could never belong

With all of my strength
I tried to adapt
But my every action and word
Were misunderstood

My attempt to lead a life
- a tragicomic farce

I'm failure embodied
A living argument
Against reproduction

Undo all I've done
I take everything back

Delete me
Reset and forget
