Give me your lies
Just leave out the reason
I'm only twenty-five
But I'm tired and I'm freezing
Come around we'll talk
Cos I just need believing...
And on you
Spare it me now
Don't leave it til later
The chances were high
But my losses were greater
So I walked alone
In the rain it was alright
Cos I was true
I would never really know what to say
Until it's been said
I was scared but my values were read
(I would never really know what to say)
Take me out at the break of today (until it's been said)
(I would never really know what to say)
Take me down, take me out (until it's been)

Bodies are here
But nobody's leaving
Your champions lie
And the crosses are heaving
So I walked alone
In the rain it was alright
Cos I was true

I would never really know what to say
Until it's been said
I was scared but my values were read
(I would never really know what to say)
Take me out at the break of today (until it's been said)
(I would never really know what to say)
Take me down, take me out (until it's been)

Sight for the age, spare a thought for the grievers
Turning the page it's the day for receivers
Wasting away I can't function this way and I know
How we will pay for sure

Living ideas
Not living for reasons
You're cursed if you try
But you're cursed if you're leaving
So I walk in crowds
In the sun now it's alright
Cos I am untrue

Here at the foundry where no one has found me
I've lost and time bounds
Closer beside me my headache surrounds me
I've lost and I'm blamed

Menace for changes collect in me sweeping
Picture my game, join control of the leaping
Follow me down with the crowd how do you want to go?
Future is slow
I know it's true, all I do counts for confusion
Innocence making a case for illusion
Menace for changes forget all the angels you've seen
Time to redeem for sure.
