So here we are for one last time
Beside ourselves, but all inside
And we will put this all behind
Give this up and watch us die

How long will it be
Before I can see
That You were always there for me?
Our hearts held high in misery
Our hearts with greatest sympathy

How do we put this into words?
How do we say our goodbyes?
From a heart that always hopes
From a heart that never tries

How long will it be
Before I can see
That You were always there for me?
Our hearts held high in misery
Our hearts with greatest sympathy

But what if tomorrow the sun doesn't rise?
Will we find you there in the midst of these cries?
This time, Or will we waver away,
and never get to say goodbye?

Determined hope that no one knows
Relentless hope, But shattered goals

How long will it be
Before I can see
That You were always there for me?
Our hearts held high in misery
Our hearts with greatest sympathy
