I'm a father and a son
I've been a lover with just one
But this world can get me all undone
And I'm frightened, I'm the only one

I wrestle with the thoughts I keep
If I sow the seed of arrogance
Then it's loneliness I'll reap
It's loneliness I'll reap

Please don't leave me stranded here
With a head of lies and a heart of fear
My life's a show on God's TV
The world an audience watching me

So wake me, shake me, keep me sharp
As I touch the power of God's great harp
And this world can fill your head with praise
That steals me from eternal grace

So how can I serve God and wealth?
I can captivate an army
But I can't control myself
I can't control myself

Ghostly figure out at sea
I hear a voice that's calling me
To walk upon the waves of faith
For in the arms of God, I am safe

All this time, all this time
All this time, since the day that I was born
I've never known a time like this
I don't wanna let you down

All this time, since the day that I was born
I've never known a time like this
I don't wanna let you down
Don't wanna let you

Sing for your light has come
I will sing, sing for your light has come

All this time, since the day that I was born
I've never known a time like this
I don't wanna let you down

All this time, since the day that I was born
I've never known a time like this
I don't wanna let you down

All this time, since the day that I was born
I've never known a time like this
I don't wanna let you down

All this time, since the day that I was born
I've never known a time like this
I don't wanna let you down

All this time, all this time
Every time, we come and save you every time
