Now after loving you
What else is there to do
Cause honey all the rest
Are gonna just be second best

I know I'll go through life
Comparing him to you
I'm no good to anyone
After loving you

Your love cannot be replaced
By just another fella
With a handsome face
And these heartaches will remain
For they can't be erased

Many loves may come along
But they won't live up to you
I'm just no good to anyone
After loving you

Your love, your precious love, cannot be replaced
By just another fella
With a handsome face
And these heartaches will remain
I know they cannot be erased

Many loves, many loves may come along
But I know they'll never live up to you
You see I'm no good to anyone
After oh honey after loving you
