(Jimmy P. Brown II)

Imaginations running wild

Innocent they seem

Polluting your mind

A formulated scheme

The battle, it start in your mind

A lesson to be learned

Provoking thoughts only cause the sin

That provoking thoughts have earned

Cast down imaginations of every high thing

That dare exalts itself against the knowledge of God

The weapons of our warfare

Powerful they are

No nuclear warfare attacks can bring these strongholds down

To take dominion over Satan's own ground

Rise up with the sword of god and put your armor on

And the weapons of our warfare aren't carnal

Imaginations running wild

Innocent they seem

They've polluted your mind

The formulated scheme

The battle, it started in your mind

A lesson to be learned

Provoking thoughts only caused the sin

That provoking thoughts have earned

Cast down imaginations of every high thing

That dare exalts itself against the knowledge of God
