Turning away
Seeing the light
I vanquish the dark
And conquer the night

River of anger is rapidly flowing
Mind keeps unleashing it's poison
Diverted directions where words become weapons
Bitterness sown, deep hatred and malice

Reach deep in my soul
Through the windows of my eyes

Turning away
Seeing the light
I vanquish the dark
And conquer the night

Reach deep in my soul
Through the windows of my eyes

Distorted views on what beauty may be
Mind goes to work on these impurities
Over and over my faint heart has failed
I cross to the dark side and search for the key...

Turning away
Seeing the light
I vanquish the dark
And conquer the night

I'm tempted to judge every book by it's cover
Fail to consider the spirit within
Give me the heart of the nail torn lover
The bloodied and battered forgiver of sin

Reach deep in my soul
Through the windows of my eyes

Reach deep in my soul
