"Breathe In, Breathe Out"

Do you ever wanna run away?
Feel like every day is not your day
Do you ever find yourself out
In the cold no were to go

If the world has ever cut you deep
If the scars never seem to heal
If the emptiness is way too much for you
All you can do

Just breathe in, breathe out
That's a moment in your life
Breathe in, breathe out
It's a wonderful night

No matter where the seasons fall
No matter how the dice will roll
In the end the here and now is all we have
Don't look back

Just breathe, in breathe out
That's a moment in your life
Breathe in, breathe out
It's a wonderful night

A hundred million times
A hundred million times

That's a moment in your life
Breathe in, breathe out
It's a wonderful night
It's a wonderful night
