Change, like secrets in the wind I hear the whispers madame butterfly
Spread your precious wings I watch you fly away

I know, I can't change fate of that July the 8th and it was never the same
I know, this stage is frightening but its oh so enlightening is this how karma goes

Who would have thought when chance came calling that this would be my defining story and who Could have guessed on my life's journey I could find my way through this extraordinary day

Why?
Had my universe gone mad?
Was there no compassion?
I was wrong
So many loving hands, Reaching out to hold me

I know, I can't change fate of that July the 8th and it was never the same
I know, that this stage is frightening but its oh so enlightening is this how karma goes

that this would be my defining story and who Could have guessed on my life's journey I could find
my way through this extraordinary day

Nothing is isolated

I know, I can't change fate of that July the 8th and it was never the same
I know, this stage is frightening but its oh so
enlightening is this how karma goes

Extraordinary day

This would be my defining story And who could have guessed on my life's journey I could find my way through this Extraordinary day
