Do you feel like I feel it's hurting my brain and it's deafening my ears but I'm worrying no more I'm anything like what I look for Time leads nowhere
my one and only certainty my love We walk on china as the seconds slip away and the crossroad that we meet is still the same Run in circles, circles run through me look around you maybe that's the way it is that's the way it is I'm tied up to those maybes Fast as light years is my speed but each and every time I'm back to the same old place back into my mind I'm a word that you've already spoken I'm not lying to you dear God's a toy that I've already broken five six the ticking insists I'm a mirror ball lost in the skyline of a thousand new dawns I'm the spinning wheel that hypnotized you go on
Time leads nowhere
my one and only certainty my love One two the ticking of clocks is getting me mad as it's getting much louder three four asking for more and peeling my skin off so slowly Air can hurt you as the seconds fade away and the fireworks that we see are not a game Keep your tricks for someone else I'm running of breath
Keep the rabbit in your hat I'm tired and sick of that Five six the ticking insists it's smashing my eyelids with it's smashing fist Go on it's pushing my bones my marrow's squeezing out and I'm done
