How do you feel
when you remember 1st time and it's the last time?

What can you say now time passes so fast and there's no answers?

How did you feel
when you killed that man? when you tell that story again?
maybe it's not easy to explain

And your air is getting thin your voice has another tone and you are left there on your own

I wish you would never had to go away but I know she's waiting you're not gonna be alone

You are so tired and you think your slide's slow but you've got to stay just a little more you know this time could be the last one

What do you feel when you see it for the 1st time and it could be the last one

When you thought that she would stay forever and she's gone up now
