There's a man dying on the side of the road,
Won't make it home tonight,
He was driving fast on a cellphone
That's how he lived his life, oohhhmm...
While he was hanging by a thread,
These were the final words he said,

My girl turned sweet sixteen today.
She's beautiful, so beautiful.
It might get rough some times,
but I hope she keeps her faith
(hope she keeps her faith)
I wish I grab the chance to say to her
Life is to short, so take the time and appreciate.

And there's a woman crying on the kitchen floor,
She got a call tonight
Now she's trembling outside her daughters door
Walks in and holds her tight, Mmhhmm
Wondering how and where to start
Is there a way to shield her heart.

My girl turned sweet sixteen today.
She's beautiful, so beautiful.
It might get rough some times,
but I hope she keeps her faith
(hope she keeps her faith)
I wish I grab the chance to say to her
Life is to short, so take the time and appreciate.

Any but a lovin' way
(Loving way, loving way, loving way)
It hurts along the way.
Ddon't be afraid to open up
(open up, open up)
And use the time you have before it fades
Show your love today

Ooooh

My girl turned sweet sixteen today.
She's beautiful, so beautiful.

It might get rough some times,
but I hope she keeps her faith
(hope she keeps her faith)
I wish I grab the chance to say to her
Life is to short, so take the time and appreciate.

My girl turned sweet sixteen today.
She's beautiful, so beautiful.
It might get rough some times,
but I hope she keeps her faith
(hope she keeps her faith)
I wish I grab the chance to say to her
Life is to short, so take the time and appreciate.
Life is to short, so take the time and appreciate.
