

Demise "Oblivion"

Visit "Oblivion" on MotoLyrics.com

In the empty corners of existence
In the unreal world
On the edge of life and death
Last time you look at the sky
Your life contained in the moment
Which will never come back
It prompts you what you lose
And what you profit
Oblivion
Your anguish, your nightmare
Unreal hopes goes away
Into oblivion, for eternity
You made a decision
And threw illusions away
Your life retires, death is nearer
You got rid of a burden
The world became so large
His mother cries waiting for son
Who will never come back
She retires into oblivion
And follows the same way
