I saw you through my window
I let you crawl inside
Your face became my shadow
Your voice became my guide

What is left?
I take what I can get, and black out all the rest
What is left?
Some words that I forget, and more I regret

I came here alone
I thought you'd gone
I left you in bones at the end of the road
I came here alone
The long way home

I'm trying to evade you
I'm dying to be done
One solemn night I'll take you down the barrel of my gun

What is left?
I take what I can get, and black out all the rest
What is left?
Some words that I forget, and more I regret

I came here alone
I thought you'd gone
I came here alone
The long way home
