"Some Day"

Somewhere in time there is an ocean deep and pure
Somewhere in space there is an endless ocean shore Somewhere between they meet and waiting there for me
Somewhere between time and space
Is where my love will be
Somewhere in time there's a boy who's not afraid to cry
Somewhere in space, a girl awaits to dry his eyes Somehow they're drawn together by love's great gravity
Somewhere between time and space
Is where my love will be
Someday we're gonna live forever
Someday we're gonna be together
Someday with our Lord in Heaven, I pray Somewhere in time there's a body that's just been touched
Somewhere in space a pair of hands know too much
Somehow they got confused and traded love for ecstasy
Somewhere between time and space
Is where my love will be
I've been through time,
Things flying by at the speed of light
I've been through space,
Where things like this occur in the night
I searched eternity for a love that seemed so true
Now somewhere between time and space
I'm waiting for you
Someday (there will be Heaven)
In between time and space (there will be Heaven)
Someday (there will be Heaven)
In between time and space (there will be Heaven)
