Hey people, gather 'round
Come see what's going down
Listen, can you hear?
Brother, sister

Oh my, I see
Pain, misery
But all my, heart wants
Salvation for everyone

I searched the land for a willing man
And I found many
One by one the hard times come
And they all up and left me

Where's the passion?
Where's the, hey hey
Where's the passion?
Where's the, hey hey

There I come, here I go
Rock of ages, rolling stone
Taste my lips, hear me roar
I'm telling you just once more

You believe, take your cross
Take your time, count the cost
And if you still know for sure
Hang on, 'cause here we go

I searched the land for a willing man
And I found many
But one by one the hard times come
And they all up and left me

Where's the passion?
Where's the, hey hey
Where's the passion?
Where's the, hey hey

I searched the land for a willing man
And I found many

One by one the hard times come
And they all up and left me

Where's the passion?
Where's the, hey hey
Where's the passion?
Where's the, hey hey

Where's the passion?
Where's the, hey hey
Where's the passion?
Where's the, hey hey
