In the morning when we see the light
I can see my feelings growing every day.
After loving half way through the night
I can feel my heart beat in a special way.

Visualize a very cozy place waking up into the morning sun

Squint my eyes and when I see your face -

I know that day by day if you're the loving kind

You'll see that day by day you'll make me loose my mind.

I know that day by day if you're the loving kind

You'll see that day by day you'll make me loose my mind.

In the evening spent a lovely day

Always near you never felt this good before

Got a feeling want you to stay

'Cause you seem to be what I've been looking for.

Takes a while before I give my heart

Living up and see the sun go dwn

Little smile and then you make me start -

I know that day by day if you're the loving kind

I know that day by day if you're the loving kind

...

I know that doy by day if yov're the loving kind

...
