This time it's on
This time it's everything or none
A new day has come
And I refuse to sleep away the sun
I'll tear my human off
To let my soul escape
Because it's not enough
To allow my life to stop
And never know the meaning of true love

Grant me this last chance
Make it slow so we can dance
You can explain to me
Love and it's grand scheme

Teach me one last time
How to sing and make the words all rhyme
Show me it's design
I'll try to comprehend it this time
Tell me the story once more
It's so familiar but different than before
Try again at my heart's door
I think I've found the key so won't you please

I swear it's so much more
Simple now
Since you broke it down
It feels easier to breathe
At least that's how it seems
So try again
Won't you please
