As the sun rays race past me
And quickly into place
They shine a smile my way
To show their excitement for your landscape
Their perfect movement
Requires nothing of my help
This beautiful dance seems choreographed
By God himself
The sunlight gives away
Your never ending hillside and gentle ways
I could observe your valleys and plains
For days and days and days
You leave me mesmerized
You fill me energize
You keep hypnotized
I have you memorized
Could there be another created so gloriously
I couldn't care less
Because I could study you for eternity
One day I will meet your father
And I'll say to him with a doubtless grin

I truly truly love her
