Are You one of the real ones?
She thinks while she checks his face
Or will this turn out to be another one of my big mistakes?

Are You one of the real ones?
He might be, but she could be wrong again
He could be like the others who promised til the end

Are You one of the real ones?
He thinks or have I found me another fake
Does she love to control and manipulate?

Are You one of the real ones?
She might be, but he could be wrong again
She could be like the others who promised til the end

They'll fall for it everytime
It's just that they're the trusting kind
Who ever made it wrong?

Who bid trust and love so long?
Who made the choice for us,
to throw out the words and forget the song of songs?

Am I one of the real ones?
Do I ever think or try to be exactly what you need or more than what you dream?

Am I one of the real ones?
I could be, but you could be wrong again
But I think I'll fight to make me right for you and for me
Just not for them
