

Denison Witmer

"Worry All The Time"

Visit "Worry All The Time" on MotoLyrics.com

Lately I've been waking to the blueset dawns that i once slept through.
The morning hangs like open chords
that I fell in with my own thoughts and words.

I used to worry all the time,
But I slowed down to live my life,
to live my life now.

College campus and warmest grass,
we sit and watch the people rush to class.
When did we decide that had to be all facts and chance that we lost mystery?

We used to worry all the time,
but we slowed down to live our lives,
to live our lives now.

We used to worry all the time,
but we slowed down to live our lives,
to live our lives now.

Visit Denison Witmer page on MotoLyrics.com, to get more lyrics and videos.