Night after night you're stealing my dreams

Just the same as you always do

And nothing's been right

Since you walked from my life

Don't you know that I'm missing you

Tell me baby are you really gonna take me home

Tell me baby are you really gonna take me home

How can it be right

When half my life is gone

Cos this heart only beats for you

Forgive and forget that's all I'm asking

I can promise that your hurting is through

Tell me baby are you really gonna take me home

Tell me baby are you really gonna take me home

Cos I've been waiting much too long

Trying to change those things I've done

Just wishing you'd come back

Time is moving on

Why am I alone

Tell me baby are you really gonna take me home

Tell me baby are you really gonna take me home

Are you really gonna take me home

Tell me, c'mon, c'mon, c'mon baby

Won't you take me home

C'mon, c'mon, are you really gonna take me home

C'mon, c'mon, c'mon baby

Won't you take me home
