Time moves so quickly
My mind can't catch up
Memr'y, please don't fail me
Name and face come back

What I know of cause she's pretty
That was one thing I won't not forget
Another thing she smiled at me
And that's it, the only thing left in my head

All I can remember is what I felt
There's a thing that came with her smile
So why am I now asking my self
What was the name, when and where?
I should have taken some pictures
Maybe should have done even more
There was something that came along with her smile
And that feeling was all I can remember

Was that dream one might ask
I'm so sure it's not
But my mind is not working right
Name and face come back

What I know of cause she's pretty
That was one thing I won't not forget
Another thing she smiled at me
And that's it, the only thing left in my head

All I can remember is what I felt
There's a thing that came with her smile
So why am I now asking my self
What was the name, when and where?
I should have taken some pictures
Maybe should have done even more
There was something that came along with her smile
And that feeling was all I can remember

What I know of cause she's pretty
That was one thing I won't not forget
Another thing she smiled at me
And that's it, the only thing left in my head

All I can remember is what I felt
There's a thing that came with her smile
So why am I now asking my self
What was the name, when and where?
I should have taken some pictures
Maybe should have done even more
There was something that came along with her smile
And that feeling was all I can remember (2x)
