Did you forget where you're going?
I know how you feel
That woman's leaving you showing
A bit more than you care to reveal
Welcome back to your good friends
Depression and fear
Not quite as cozy as she was
But you're going to like it here

Nothing's good until you're down and out
Then everything's tasty
Stick your tongue into the gutter
Everything's tasty

It's supposed to be easy, this many times around
But so many tear drops, that's what I've found
So I take it with pain,
take it for pain,
take it with pain

Nothing's good until you're down and out
Then everything's tasty
Stick your tongue into the gutter
Everything's tasty
