it's one of those conversations we've we've had them before the ones that leave you empty and wanting for more

your eyes they tell me something that I understand
your eyes they hold the truth and the truth is:

you're miles away 3x

excuse me for my hesitation 'ave i met you before your face seems so familiar and longing for more

and a truth is

with all your superstitions and empty lines
I could be just like you withdrawn but alive

life it has it's limitations we all have our needs love to be the only answer it lies underneath

you're miles away (3x)(3X)(2X)
