Could you
Weep for me this once
Lend me just a tear
I'm not asking for a river
Alright I admit
I'm not making any sense
But I have lost a war
And I won a shovel and a shelter

Fear has got the best of me
And the jokes has got the rest of me
Now who is gonna meet me
On the other side?
I'm staring at your face
And hope heaven holds a place
And that you are gonna meet me
On the other side

I wish I knew a street
That couldn't kill me
Now I got a door
With chains and locks and peephole
So could I
Sleep in your arms tonight
It doesn't mean a thing
Except that I'm asking for forgiveness

Fear has got the best of me
And the jokes has got the rest of me
Now who is gonna meet me
On the other side?
I'm staring at your face
And hope heaven holds a place
And that you are gonna meet me
On the other side
