Now that heaven fell again
All you can give is more than I have
I never thought that I would say
I need you more than you need me

So now that heaven fell again
I want that song that you never wrote
I'm no soldier and neither are you
But together we're an army of two

So won't you tell him that I'm coming late
That is if I'm coming at all
'Cause I've got feelings that need repairing
And I've got guns that need reload

We could be the best of friends
You'll cover me, and I'll cover you
Let's never be careful what we wish for
'Cause it just might come true
Now that heaven fell again
I need that coat from the cold

So won't you tell him that I'm coming late
That is if I'm coming at all
'Cause I've got feelings that need repairing
And I've got guns that need to know

Hey now

So won't you tell him that I'm coming late
That is if I'm coming at all
'Cause I've got feelings that need repairing
And I've got guns that need to know

Tell me babe
Is it always
