Like another you or another me
Somebody else's mother living on somebody else's street
In a different skin you might say the same things
All the same words with all the same meanings
We can dress up for free
You go so far to get in with the out crowd
You're chasing fireflies
You work so hard to stay up on the downtown
You're chasing fireflies
Keep reaching so high still can't touch the ground
Trying to be whole pieces are all you've found
We can definitely hear you and absolutely see that You want to have an explanation for who you're trying to be
We can all dress up for free
We're chasing fireflies
