I've seen your forbidden treasures
But those riches, I just can't hold
Though they shines like a diamond
And they're precious as pure gold

But someone is waiting to love me
With a heart so strong and true
And though it'll be easy to stay here
I'm gonna walk away from you

I feel inside the burning
Of a love that just can't be
And nothing can stop this yearning
That builds inside of me

I've got more than a man could ask for
So wanting you is foolish dreams
You're a vision to dream on
But a memory I don't need
I know it's not much consolation
It's hard to bow out gracefully
Darlin', I just have to thank you
You always left it up to me

There'll be no consummation
But dreaming is not a crime
And you'll be a sweet inspiration
For a long, long time

I feel inside the burning
Of a love that just can't be
And nothing can stop this yearning
That builds inside of me

I've got more than a man could ask for
Oh, wanting you is foolish dreams
Yes, you're a vision to dream on
But a memory I don't need
Yes, you're a vision to dream on
But a memory I don't need
