My mind is weary and i'm losing site if loving you is worth the fight sometimes i can't see it but i don't want no one else

A lesser woman would have been long gone you stuck around a nd showed me when i was wrong You said hey think about it ain't not doubt about it that it's always darker just before the dawn

If you feel the same
Then don't walk away (yeah)
And we'll start again
Maybe this time

The sun is rising and the ?? is clear it's not quite right but you know we're getting there But keep on pushing me, i might get it right

Home Home
Everybody makes mistakes sometimes
Home Home
Some people quit too soon
Home Home
No body else want to work it out
Home Home
I'm working out just to see it through

If we feel ashamed
We don't walk away
It won't feel the same
The same as it used to be

If you feel the same
Then don't walk away
And we'll start again
Maybe this time
