You got the fire of your daddy's eyes
The free spirit from your mama's side
So your garden grows like a ramblin' rose You got the shine of an ocean pearl
A rare diamond that I'd trade the world
Just to hold a while - that little sunshine smile
And ooo - I want you to know I'm with you whatever lies down the road

Hey now, one in a million - tell me where you wanna fly I'll keep the windows open, no tellin' how high you're goin'
Hey now, one in a million - write your name 'cross the sky
Grab a little piece of blue clear - world's gonna know
you've been here
Hey now, hey, hey now - you're one in a million

Life's got it's own gravity Sometimes it takes you to your knees
But no passin' cloud is gonna keep you down
'Cause ooo - I know who you are A supernova out among the stars

Hey now, one in a million - tell me where you wanna fly I'll keep the windows open, no tellin' how high you're
goin'
Hey now, one in a million - write your name 'cross the
sky
Grab a little piece of blue clear - world's gonna know
you've been here
Hey now, hey, hey now - you're one in a million

There's no one else like you And I thank God
On the day that he made you
I bet he thought

Hey now, one in a million - tell me where you wanna fly I'll keep the windows open, no tellin' how high you're
goin'

Hey now, one in a million - write your name 'cross the
sky
Grab a little piece of blue clear - world's gonna know
you've been here
Hey now, hey, hey now - you're one in a million

Hey now, one in a million
Hey now, you're one in a million
