Some guys gotta ride that highway
Follow the sun
Some guys gotta row that boat
Just to see how far that river's gonna run
Some guys gotta spread their wings
And fly beyond the blue
All I want in this life
Is to be that guy that loves you

Some guys gotta scale some mountain
Just to feel that high
But I know without lookin' over
That grass ain't greener on the other side
You wakin' up in the mornin'
Now, talk about a view
God knows why
I get to be that guy that loves you

That girl who ain't afraid to say exactly what she thinks
The one who drags her toolbox out when the washer's on the blink
Who laughs and cries and thinks this life's a song worth dancin' to
How lucky am I to be that guy that loves you

Some guys gotta chase that dollar
Hold it in their hands
Some wanna flip that ol' hourglass over
Just to sift back through them grains of sand
But I lean more towards these moments
Where all I gotta do
Is hold on tight
And be that guy that loves you

That girl who ain't afraid to chase her dreams across the sky
The one whose hand I take when I say grace, come suppertime
Who laughs and cries and thinks this life's a song
worth dancin' to
How lucky am I to be that guy that loves you
How lucky am I to be that guy that loves you
