Cool To Be You

I don't believe in unity

Once the people get together

It's easy to see

It's just one more abandoned dream

It's just a matter of time

Before they come after me

With your brothers at your back

But it must be pretty cool to be you

Protecting you

You belong

It must be pretty cool to know

Isolated my whole life

Counting scars in the land of smiling knives

Yes I'm envious it's true

But it must be cool to be you

You got a loving family

To give you everything you need

My family loves each other so much

We live a thousand miles away

And never stay in touch

But it must be pretty cool to be you

It must be pretty cool to know you belong

With a home and a family to go home to

Counting scars in the land of smiling knives

Isolated my whole life

Yes I'm envious it's true

But it must be cool to be you

What can I do?

Maybe I'll move

I know this bitter jealousy is wrong

And find a brand new place I don't belong

Some friends I'll never know

New places I can't go

'Cause everywhere I've been

Is on outside looking in

You got a deep sustaining faith
I was raised in the church
A Lord who listens when you pray
And I was told to believe

I wonder if God believes in me
It must be pretty cool to be you
With your holy faith sustaining you
It must be pretty cool to know you belong

Isolated my whole life
Counting scars in the land of smiling knives
But it must be cool to be you
Yes I'm envious it's true
