"It Takes A Believer"

I don't take it for granted some things that money can't buy
If I'm left empty handed I'll keep walking the line
If it's really forever for a while I've got to pretend We'll be walking together in a dream that will never end
It takes a believer to hold on to the truth
Tell me you've seen her with somebody new Don't tell me the story don't tell me the lie
It takes a believer when the well runs dry

I hear the sound of her footsteps I feel the presence within
Takes a lot of forgiveness to fall in love again
It takes a believer...
[guitar]
Don't tell me the story...
It takes a believer it takes a believer
