Well the farthest place you think you can run to won't be too far from me
And the longest distance from here to the sun won't be too long for me
Oh oh oh I ain't taking no prisoners hearing no alibis
Oh oh oh you can run from me hide from me
You know it's just a matter of time I'm no stranger I'm no danger I've been all around this world
I'm no friend to the lying lowdown who try and lay claim to my world
Oh oh oh won't somebody tell her she's been way out of line
Oh oh oh you can run from me hide from me you know it's just a matter of time

I'm just the same old guy I used to be no better no worse
I'm just the same old long lost lover tryin' to make things work yeah [guitar]
I'm no believer in things that deceive her leavin' her broken and blind I'll be around when it all goes down you know it's just a matter of time
Oh oh oh won't somebody tell her...
Oh oh oh won't somebody tell her...
You know it's just a matter of time
