Do I have to change my name move to another town
start all over again Nothing seems to feel the same whenever you're around
You treat me like an old friend
Do I have to fake love do I have to make love
From the punishments and promises you hand to me
What is this attitude if this is really you Then you're not all that you make yourself out to be

I see that you've been courtin' fame under another name
Tell me where does it end Just who's the one you're looking for behind that unknown door
Should I start over again
Do I have to fake love...

But I've got a brand new life I've got the song of love And if only you could share all that I'm dreaming of [ guitar - steel ]
Do I have to fake love...

Do I have to change my name move to another town
start all over again
Start all over again start all over again
