[with Allison Kraus]

How many lovers in lifetimes've gone like clothing that we wear

Long after it's worn out with love undying love undying love

Life had no meaning till I gave you mine

Now the red rose and green briar have entwined

With love undying love undying love

[ac.guitar - steel]

The light in the window is keeping us warm

And inside my heart is a raging storm of love

Undying love undying love undying love
