Beneath the veil of starry sky,
As cold as winter's darkest night.
It's there you sleep, silent and deep,
You're all alone.
I sing the prayer's
Soft melody
Across the lonely silent fields
A little light began to shine,
It shines on and on
I watched you as you so peacefully dreamed,
You laughed like a child,
Happy and carefree
It's all familiar and yet so far,
That's the future's promise for you and me.
One day on a green and shiny morn',
One day we will finally make it through
Cause in this sky
So dark with winter,
We still have to believe it's true
Fields of hope.
A gentle touch

A loving brush

Those things I still search for

A prayer in

A melody

It goes on and on

I sing the prayer's

Soft melody

One vanishes, one dies

And all in all

It starts again

A never ending cycle

One day on a green and shining morn'

Through all the long nights we've been fighting for

There lies a place

Far from disgrace

Where we won't have to hide from the world again

Now there lies a deep love within my heart

A yearn to protect you and keep you warm

It's all familiar and yet so far,

It's made for the peace of mind

Fields of hope

Natsukashiku mada tooi

Yakusoku no nohara

Fields of hope

Fields of hope
