People laugh and love and cry and I'm still missing you
The paper boy still comes around (the paper boy still comes around)
Just like he used to do (just like he used to do)
But he's a little taller now and I'm still missing you The leaves are piled against the fence (the leaves are piled against the fence)
The sky is hazy blue (the sky's hazy sorta blue) There's talk about an early snow and I'm still missing you and I'm still missing you
The swirlin' winds of time bring many changes (You know the winds of time bring many changes)
But with me they only blow across the surface of my heart
And they can't cool this memory of you that burns so deep inside me Dick and Jane came by today (Dick and Jane came by today)
Their baby's almost due (said their baby's almost due)
People laugh and love and cry and I'm still missing you and I'm still missing you
