

Bill Anderson

"Sugar In Your Coffee"

Visit "Sugar In Your Coffee" on MotoLyrics.com

SUGAR IN YOUR COFFEE

(Ray Griff)

© '72 Blue Echo Music

I came downstairs and found the morning paper by my plate

A glass of orange juice waitin' there for me

I looked across the table and I saw the sweetest face

And she smiled at me and then I heard to say

Do you want sugar in your coffee honey on your toast

Or baby would you rather that I hold you close

Do you want scrambled eggs and bacon a bowl of shredded wheat

Do you want sugar in your coffee or loving warm and sweet

I watched her as she moved and knew that she was heaven sent

I lived again sweet memories in my head

I never knew real happiness or what it really meant

Until my baby turned to me and said

Do you want sugar in your coffee honey on your toast

Or baby would you rather that I hold you close

Do you want fingertips to touch you and kisses on your cheek

Do you want sugar in your coffee or loving warm and
sweet

Do you want sugar in your coffee...

Visit Bill Anderson page on MotoLyrics.com, to get more lyrics and videos.