bartender says,
"kid one day you'll be famous which is lucky, cause Honey, I hate to say it you ain't much of a waitress, even on a dayshift clumsy as you are it's like we're paying you to break dishes." now the records break like plates wrecking stages state to state getting bigger like every day and they say the game's changing Doomtree stays sharp raise a blade up but 'member when we didn't have a dime to stop on all night tryna write a decent pop song dot-net cause somebody already had the dot-com get in, lets go, g'head, c'mon boys in the basement, beats through a bass amp paper's on the breaks and we're all on the radar now I guess digging in and gaining ground, and yes no matter where we go I do believe we're all related now

there's no love like crew and that's true cause to me my friend's and my family my clan is Doomtree
there's no love like crew love
my people, my partners
my plan is Doomtree

it's been a long walk, and it's a steep hill no time for small talk no place for weak wills you mind your business and you try to stay real half Dorothy Parker half April O'Neal
this rock rolls over light on the horizon real slow strobe night day and night again

no time now to wonder bout what might have been eyes on the prize no matter what the critics think what's got nine lives and lands on its feet?
The Doomtree Franchise
rep wings and teeth if the hinges creak then break the door down all I need is a beat
a four count

maybe ain't a lot
and what we've got is what we've made

there's no love
like crew love and the true love to me
