Was it your mistake
That your father made
All the things that the people are talking about

Oh you did not know
Cause he did not show
You could have wonder where all the money is from

Was it your mistake
That your brother made
All the things that the people are talking about

Now he is in jail
Because he did sell
Things about that you can read in the daily news

You're a good boy but
No one knows about
Even the officer who caught your brother did say

"We do wait for you
We will come for you"
Are you responsible for what your family is

It is 12 'o clock
But the sun is gone
Your mother left your family when you were young

It's a tragedy
There's no canticle
For anything that you make or anything you do

And you've never been out
Of this city that is yours
You never took a look behind those walls
And you've never gone away
From this family of the damned
You stayed in your Suburbia
Your bittersweet home

And you've never been out
Of this city that is yours

You never took a look behind those walls
And you've never gone away
From this family of the damned
You stayed in your Suburbia
Your bittersweet home
