Eyes wide, my hands are tied Oh I haven't slept in days Such a mess, I must confess I just don't know what to say I got some lights I choked, every heart I broke when stars did not align But now, I won't look back, no I'm not letting go this time

And I'll sing them oh so well: the things that my words couldn't tell
I'll sing of secrets I can't keep as long as you will sing it back at me

The first bit's the strongest hit, when it hasn't sunk in yet
So now I'll write it down, yeah I'll make sure I won't forget
I got a bag I brought with too much thought, it's fuel to my fears
But now I know I'm sure that I haven't felt like this in years

And I'll sing them oh so well: the things that my words
couldn't tell
I'll sing of secrets I can't keep in long forgotten melodies
And I'll sing them oh so well: the things that my words
couldn't tell
Of secrets in the highest key as long as you will sing it back at me
