iâ€™m sure i would walk to the end of the world for you iâ€™ve told you one thousand times before but it was never like this you complete, you excite me to dangerous levels i am only happy to be in your arms my fondest memories are of us staring at stars together... wondering how much brighter they would shine if we were them

if they could take part in this comfort and solace out laughter in the face of sorrow and pain iâ€™ll retreat to you and with each other we are one paired we outshine the sun, separated we darken nights
so here i offer this plan of forever, shall we remain true
