Heard a voice calling me through the valleys through the trees.

Who is the woman?

I set off for afar, gathered troops and warriors.

The three blind prophets warned me of this day.

I heard the mountains calling me.

I should rode my steed into eternity.

She makes me lose control.

I ignored the prophecies.

Her power over my mind with crystals of an ancient age.

She is the evil one.

She is queen of evil hearts and evil stones.

I raise my fist into the sky.

We climbed up into the sky to the temple enshroud by clouds.

That's when I saw her.

She shot lasers from her eyes as my troops burned and dropped like flies.

The prophecy was right her soul was mine.

I heard the mountains calling me.

I should rode my steed into eternity.

She makes me lose control.

I ignored the prophecies.

Her power over my mind with crystals of an ancient age.

She is the evil one.

She is queen of evil hearts and evil stones.

I raise my fist into the sky.

I have no control of my time or my armies.

Have I been defeated?

The time is near.

Your head will roll.

Without fear we'll destroy your soul.
